Logic riddle

Elves are silly fellows. They have once again allowed themselves a joke! In the Christmas bakery, they giggle and swap the labels with the ingredients on the sacks, so that none of them is attached to the right sack. Santa must now restore order. In the first sack are hazelnuts, in the second sack walnuts, in the third a mixture of walnuts and hazelnuts.

Without looking into the sack, the wise Santa reaches into one in particular and pulls out a nut. Immediately he knows with certainty to which sack he must hang which tag. Which wrong tag is hanging on the sack he reached into???
